Father. Outside, the temple of hard rock features a 15-foot likeness of his Grace, while inside, a concert-hall size stage dominates what's left of the club; a full bar, some gold records on the wall, and the faithful crowded in between. Services held Fri.-Sat., 8:30 p.m.; new amateur bands Sun., 7 p.m.; 18 & over, cover $7.50. (213) 273-6606.

Fri., May 8—Blow-dried, hook-laden pop-metal from Hurricane; plus Rocknee, Onyx and Krystal Jem.

Sat., May 9—Hurricane, Masque, Lash Tavit, Sweet Cheater.

Thurs., May 14—Menace, Kensington Park, Canterbury, Freak Show.

THE LHASA CLUB, 1110 N. Hudson Ave., Hlywd. This sleek industrial space has become the place to be entertained for Hollywood's discriminating aesthete set. Whether it's original music, performance art, exhibitions, poetry, comedy, dance, film and videos, or freshly made crepes and soups, the Lhasa serves up something for everyone. Wash it all down at the juice and espresso bar, or, for the more spirited, brown-bag Y.O.B. No age limit. (213) 461-7284.

Fri.-Wed., May 8-13—Closed.

Thurs., May 14—Freeway Records and the Lhasa Club present a night of spoken word with Wanda Coleman, Richard Meltzer, Michelle T. Clinton and Phast Phreddie.

LIMBO LOUNGE at the Four Star Saloon, 8857 Santa Monica Blvd., W. Hlywd. This Lounge brings you an eclectic gathering of some very twisted, offbeat entertainment, including music, performance art, comedy, dance and video, all in the same evening. Located in what is normally a typical drag bar, it's transformed (visually and mentally!) into a creative environment on Thurs. from 9 p.m.-2 a.m. A DJ spins decidedly non-mainstream music between live performances. Full bar, over 21. (213) 663-7526.

Thurs., May 14—KXLU (Stella's, especially) favorite (No. 2 in rotation, to be exact) Red Temple Spirits, who sound like early Siouxsie (well, the Banshees, to be exact), with a male vocal; also, I, a primitive-industrial sound band who use no (conventional) musical instruments, as well as nothing electrical (except microphones); and as usual, Glen Meadmore.

MADAME WONG'S WEST, 2900 Wilshire Blvd., S.M. In the world of mainstream pop, this club operates like the Mississippi, boasting more bands signed to recording contracts than any other club in L.A. "Big Muddy" West offers two floors of entertainment, featuring simultaneous shows seven nights a week. And when the levee breaks,
